Headline:

Some sunny spells but cloud and showers developing later today.

Today:

Rather cloudy to start with the odd spot of light rain. Brief brighter, perhaps sunny, intervals are likely to develop, before further cloud spreads east later in the afternoon, bringing occasional showers, heavy at times in the north. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:

Showers continuing this evening, but these will gradually clear, leaving a largely dry night with variable cloud. Light winds may allow some patchy mist and fog to form by dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Friday:

A largely dry day with broken cloud allowing for some spells of sunshine. It will feel warm with light winds. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Saturday largely dry, warm and bright, but outbreaks of heavy rain spreading east later. Rain clearing to sunny spells and heavy showers Sunday. Sunny spells and a few showers Monday.
